This course is designed to assist the full range of public safety professionals and first responders including School Resource Officers to understand the toll that the day-to-day stress can take on both their personal and professional lives. We enter public safety careers as idealistic and committed employees and along the way have to find ways to avoid becoming cynical, angry, and self-destructive. Dr. Gilmartin provides critical information to personnel on how this process might take place with preventative strategies on how to remain committed, productive public safety employees.

Hosted by:

The Ada County Sheriff's Office

partnered with

The US Attorney's Office & the Idaho POST Academy

made possible by Federal Grant #2015-DJ-BX-105 awarded by the Edward Byrne Memorial Justice Assistance Grant Program

Instructor:

Kevin M Gilmartin, Ph.D.

Dr. Gilmartin is a behavioral sciences and management consultant specializing in the LE and public safety areas. During his LE tenure in Tucson, AZ he supervised the Behavioral Sciences Unit and Hostage Negotiations Team. He is a former recipient of the IACP-Parade Magazine National Police Officer Service Award for contributions during hostage negotiations. He presently maintains a consulting relationship with LE agencies in the US and Canada. He is a guest instructor at the FBI Academy in Quantico, VA and faculty member of the FBI LE Executive Development Institute. He holds a doctoral degree in clinical psychology from the University of Arizona. In addition to being the author of the book Emotional Survival for LE, he is the author of numerous articles published by the Dept. of Justice, IACP & FBI.
